THEIR HEADS TOGETHER.

President Cleveland and Senator Hill Get Friendly—Other News at the Nation's Capital.

Washington, Jan. 7.—The senate committee on public lands to-day favorably reported the bill recommended by the secretary of state for the relief of homestead settlers on timber lands in Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Michigan, who suffered loss by the severe forest fires during the past autumn. The bill has already passed the house.

HOUSE MATTERS.
The desk of the late Representative Post, of Illinois, was found covered with crape, on which rested a wreath of flowers, when the house met to-day. Johnson, of Ohio, presented a memorial from Samuel J. Ritchie, of Ohio, for the impeachment of Judge Augusta J. Ricks and the committee on judiciary was instructed to investigate the charges.

THEY LOST A FINE.
Instead of making money the syndicate has lost, and it has lost a big pile.

Carlie's financial recommendations to congress caused the bonds to decline and instead of being worth 117 now, the highest recent bid on the late issue of bonds has been 111. So Morgan and Lanier and the balance of the Wall street wolves, who forced the issue and expected to reap a harvest of finances from it, when they failed to do so presented themselves at the white house and demanded Mr. Car-lie's removal. They accompanied it with a threat that unless Mr. Cleveland did so they would never aid the administration, but rather would play havoc with it, and cause this administration to be a complete failure. But the bluff did not work.

TO BE OPENED TO SETTLERS.
The Yankton reservation in South Dakota will probably be opened for settlement early in the spring. The total amount to be paid by the government for the lands is $621,475, $500,000 of which is to be held in the treasury as a permanent fund drawing interest at 5 per cent, payable per capita twice a year.

HAVE THEY MADE UP?

One of the guests at the state dinner last week told an interesting story of what occurred there between President Cleveland and Senator Hill. Before the dinner only the formal greetings took place. At the dinner the president and senator sat some distance apart. After dinner those of the gentlemen who desired withdrew to the smoking room.
Those who did so were Mr. Cleveland, President Roberts, of the Pennsylvania railroad; President Orr, of the New York chamber of commerce, Senator Hill and several others. The gentlemen lighted their cigars and took seats. Mr. Cleveland glanced across the room, picked up his chair and, putting it beside Senator Hill's, sat down and entered into a friendly conversation. The action was so marked that the others noticed it and told of it to-day. The statement is made that Senator Hill was never inside of the White house until last night.

AS TO PUBLIC LANDS.

The senate committee on public lands to-day authorized a favorable report on the bill passed by the house last August asking that the secretary of the interior permit the use of a right of way through public lands not within the limits of any park, forest, military or Indian reservation for tram roads and for reservoirs to the extent of the ground occupied by the water of the canal and reservoirs and fifty feet on each side of the marginal limits thereof, or fifty feet on each side of the center line of the tram road, by any citizen or any association of the United States engaged in curing timber and manufacturing lumber.

SLEEPING CAR MATES.

John S. Runkles, the attorney of the Pullman Car company, will soon be in Washington to oppose the passage of the bill recently introduced in the senate by Mr. Sherman, seeking to regulate and reduce the prices now charged by the sleeping car companies. Representative J.
Frank Aldrich, of Chicago, is also against the adoption of the proposed bill. He bases his opposition on the ground that if the rates are to be reduced the service will not be as satisfactory nor the accommodations so complete.

JUDGE CLARKE'S CASE.

The senate judiciary committee to-day considered the case of Judge Clarke, appointed United States district judge for the eastern and middle districts of Tennessee. A sub-committee consisting of Senators Hill, Lindsay and Platt was appointed to investigate the charges and report to the full committee at a later date.

THE MCGARRAHAN CLAIM.

Senator Teller, who was the special champion in the senate to the late William McGarrahan in his effort to establish his claim to a ranch of the Grande grange in California, says he will not continue his labors in behalf of McGarra-han's heirs.

"I supported Mr. McGarrahan because I believed an injustice had been done him and not because of the money involved. McGarrahan took that position himself and when money was offered refused to compromise. Now that his heirs have taken up the contest they have done so purely for the sake of the property which is supposed to be involved and not for the establishment of a principle."

The bill, it may be stated, has passed the senate and had been favorably reported from committees in the house. It merely provides for submitting McGarra-han's claims to the U. S. court of private land claims.

CANVASS OF THE HOUSE.

A rough preliminary canvass of the house on the pending currency bill has been made. One of the Democratic members of the house, who is favorable to the bill, is authority for the statement that the canvass shows a total of 124 votes for the bill, considerable short of the number necessary to pass it. Congressman Springer says that such canvasses as have been made are informal and inexact. He will give no figures, although he says the purpose has not been to learn who will vote for the bill, but who are against it, in order that objections may be met and overcome. Other members interested in the management of the bill profess to know nothing of an exact canvass. It is undoubtedly true, however, that a pretty close count has been made with the result stated. There are so many propositions, substitutes and amendments pending that it is probable any canvass would fail to show the vote under the many varying circumstances which may be presented. The wide margin for difference in a canvass is indicated by the estimate of a member based on a canvass by the state delegations that the bill would pass by a majority of twenty. It is also pointed out that the vote is 124, while short of a majority, when the full membership of the house members is present, is a reasonably strong vote when any members are absent.

The Usual Tramp on a Bet.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 7.—Y. S. Sutton, who is walking from Chicago to Tacoma, started without money on a wager of $250 that he can beat a 62-days' record, arrived in the city yesterday, seven days from Minneapolis, eighteen days from Chicago, neither foot sore nor weary. He carries an American flag and Chicago Dispatch colors. He gave an entertainment at the Metropole club rooms which will net him sufficient money to continue on his journey.

HAS THE GRIP.

New York City is in the Clutches of the Dread Disease.

New York, Jan. 7.—The grip is once more giving New York doctors insomnia.
Dr. John H. Gardner, who has made a study of the grip, says to-day: "It is certainly back again, as many patients can certify, but it is not nearly so serious as it was the first year it came." The doctors have decided that it is caused by a germ, but the germ is not identified.

Another of the Cook Gang Caught.

Coffeyville, Kas., Jan. 7.—Bud Luckey, a member of the Cook gang, was captured by Deputy Marshal Jimmerson at the house of a friend in Cherokee hotspots near Muskogee, I. T., Sunday night.

Wool Industry.

Davenport, Idaho, Jan. 7.—The Davenport Woolen Mills company, by its president, Sam A. Jennings, had a lively time during the late campaign in contending with the high-tariff Republicans of the city that the woolen manufacturing business would be benefited by the reduction in the tariff made shortly before. At the meeting of this company's directors, just held, a resolution was passed, which was declared, and it is learned, quietly that the actual profits on the year's business were considerably more than double that figure.
The new tariff is doing its own talking here.

Poor Man's Loans.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 7.—A public loan office, founded on the plan of that maintained in New York by the Vanderbilts and other capitalists, which seeks to rescue poor people from the clutches of chattel mortgage sharks, will be established here shortly, with a capital of $50,- 000, subscribed by leading citizens. The interest rate to be charged will be about 2 per cent a month instead of 10 per cent, which the chattel mortgage men here are now charging. The organization is being effected by Agent Frelson, of the Associated charities. A public pawnshop will also be founded.

to be read in all the churches of the archdiocese of Boston: "We learn by letters from Rome, forwarded by his excellency, the apostolic delegate at Washington, that the most holy father has forbidden all Catholics to join the societies of Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias and Sons of Temperance. As to those who have al-are to be admonished to withdraw from them and if they refuse to do so, they are to be denied the sacrament."

STARTLING NEWS

That Seems to Have a Firm Foundation
—A Rumor as to English Affairs.

London, Jan. 7.—The Pall Mall Gazette publishes to-day a rumor to the effect that Sir William Vernon Hair-court, chancellor of the exchequer, and the Liberal leader in the house of commons, has resigned and that a dissolution of parliament is imminent. It is believed that the report is based upon the fact that Postmaster General Arnold Morey and the president of the local government board, Shaw Lefevre, both of whom are cabinet ministers, have been summoned from Monte Carlo to attend a cabinet council next Thursday.

The Phoenix Canal Sold.

Phoenix, A. T., Jan. 7.—The property of the Gila Bend Irrigation company and its successor, the Pecos Canal company and the Arizona Construction company, a kindred association, has been sold by the receiver under order of the court.
The entire property was bid in by C. E.
Crowley, of Los Angeles, a member of the firm that did the greater portion of the construction work on the canal, to whom was due over $100,000. The property brought $185,000, to which must be added $125,000 in receivers' certificates.

The sale is a final one, succeeding a long course of litigation, and is without right of redemption. It is worth at the least calculation $1,500,000, embracing a great dam on the Gila river, thirty miles below Phoenix, forty miles of main canal capable of irrigating 30,000 acres and thirty miles of laterals. The actual cost exceeded $1,000,000. The capital was mainly furnished by Greenhut and other members of the whisky trust at Phoenix, Ill., who allowed the forfeit of all their rights. The new owners are now forming a company and will soon take charge of the canal, which is full of water and in perfect shape.

The Pope to the Press.

New York, Jan. 7.—In acknowledgment of the address to Pope Leo a little less than a year ago by the Catholic editors of the United States, the pope has sent a cordial reply through Mgr. Satolli. Extracts are made from a translation of the Latin text authorized by the apostolic delegate:

"It has ever been our most ardent desire that in these days of unbridled literary license when the world is flooded with harmful publications, men of mark sagaciously should labor for the public welfare by the diffusion of wholesome literature."

The Strike is Over.

Pittsburg, Jan. 7.—The 119-inch mill at the Homestead works is working today and the strike at that place is broken.
All the furnaces at the Edgar Thompson works at Bridgeport are also working and the steel mill will resume to-morrow.

A Suspicious $75,000 Fire.

Dubuque, Pa., Jan. 7.—The large general store of Bell, Lewis & Yates, con-operators, burned here to-day with a loss of $75,000. The cause of the fire was on a strike and it is believed that the fire was of incendiary origin.

Isaac G. Harris Renominated.

Ashville, N. C., Jan. 7.—The Democratic caucus in Tennessee to-day renominated United States Senator Harris.

PISTOLS FOR TWO

Colorado—The Killed and Wounded.

Las Animas, Colo., Jan. 7.—Great excitement was caused at a dance here last night by Jose Ramirez and Santiago Complado, who drew revolvers and began shooting at each other. Complado was killed.

ANOTHER SHOOTING MATCH.

Montrose, Colo.—News has just reached here that in a shooting affray in Paradox valley camp, a worthless young character was killed by Thomas Pepper, a ranchman. Pepper was seriously wounded.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

SUNK BY THE ICE.

Serious Accidents Occur to River Traffic—Rough Weather in the East.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Jan. 7.—Rain has fallen here steadily for forty-six hours and the river is rising rapidly. At Grantsville, up the Kanawha river, the water is twenty-three feet and is still rising. The timber men predict immense damage. The steamer Onida, a river packet, was sunk here at midnight.
The ice knocked a hole in her and she will be a total loss.

HAD NEAR PITTSBURGH.

Pittsburg.—There is a probability of a flood at this point if the river continues any length of time at the present rate. A large amount of ice is coming out of the Youghiogany, and at McKeesport, the little steamer Tillie was sunk. A twenty-five foot stage in the Ohio river is expected here and the river men fear it will reach thirty feet. Twenty-five feet will reach the mills along the river and cause damage to the property. Thirty feet is considered the danger line.

SWEEPS EVERYTHING BEFORE IT.

Bellairs, Ohio.—The indications are that the great flood of 1884 will be repeated. The river is rising rapidly in consequence of the incessant rains of the past thirty-six hours. The ice in the Ohio river and its tributaries broke up and ran out last night. Several barges were lost and two bridges on the Cleveland, Lorraine & Wheeling railway were washed away. Traffic is completely blocked and the low lands will be flooded by tomorrow morning. The people are moving to higher ground.

Almost Incredible.

It seems almost impossible for Santa Feans to believe it, but dispatches from northern New Mexico and Colorado points say a terrific storm has been in progress for three days past. One to three feet of snow have fallen at many Colorado points and on Friday night a wind storm of extraordinary violence prevailed. Houses at Boulder, Colo., were unroofed, and even so near us as Las Vegas damage was done. The Optic of Saturday says:

"Considering the velocity of the wind last night but little damage was done.
While the fire was raging on the west side the roof blew from the Lopez hall and landed within a few yards of the blazing lumber pile. A portion of the lumber pile was blown over the mill viaduct by the force of the blast and came tumbling down. A frame house which Ruff Rogers was building north of town collapsed.
The studdings had been put in place and a few boards nailed to them. Other but minor accidents occurred in different places."

THE PECOS ROAD.

Railway Magnates Taking Great Interest in the Proposed Line to Washburn.

From all present indications any day now may bring the news that construction work has been ordered commenced on the extension of the Pecos Valley railroad from Roswell to Washburn.

Vice-President L. S. Thorpe, of the T.
& P. railway, accompanied by Division Superintendent Paul and several local merchants of Dallas, Gen. G. M. Dodge, president of the Fort Worth & Denver railroad, and Morgan Jones, receiver of the same road; F. Trumbull, receiver of the Ft. W. D. & G. and U. S. District Judge Green, of the northern district of Texas, were visitors to Roswell and Eddy last week and the Texas and Colorado papers are filled with the significance of their visit and the glowing reports they make of southeastern New Mexico. The Denver Republican says:

"Not the least interesting part of the trip which Receiver Trumbull just completed was that to the Pecos country in New Mexico. Concerning this the receiver said: 'We went over the Pecos Valley railroad which was built by J. J.
Esgerman, of Colorado Springs. The road runs from Pecos City, Texas, to Roswell, New Mexico, a distance of sixty-five miles. It penetrates a garden. Over $3,000,000 has already been spent developing the country and 200,000 acres of land can be put under ditch there. Over 100 miles of canals have been built and every variety of agricultural products is grown there, the yields being phenomenal.'

"This Pecos country may become a valuable feeder to Colorado some day, as Receiver Trumbull says that a 200-mile branch could be run from a point of the Gulf right into the valley and open up a wonderfully rich grazing and farming country along the line."

To the Dallas Daily News Gen. Dodge talked of the proposed extension as a fact, saying:

"We were favorably impressed with the two towns of Eddy and Roswell and especially with the hospitality and energy of their citizens. The extension of the Pecos railway from Roswell to Washburn, 212 miles, will add greatly to the future prosperity and value of the valley, giving it direct connection with Kansas City by the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, and with Denver and Fort Worth by the Fort Worth & Denver City and Union Pacific, Denver & Gulf railway, and on the shortest routes. This road when built will be a great aid to these roads as well as to their own line."

"Some years ago I made a survey from Washburn to Roswell and Mr. Kingman, the engineer who has just finished a survey for the Pecos Valley railway, confirms the report then made by my engineers. With present prices the road can be built and equipped for about $10,000 per mile, and with grades not to exceed 1 per cent, and the road, when completed, will be the shortest line to Denver and Fort Worth and of the least grades, and will tend to develop a portion of Texas and New Mexico that now sadly needs it."

Grand Canon of Colorado River

On the Santa Fe route, in northern Arizona, 1,262 miles from Kansas City, is the town of Flagstaff. A tri-weekly stage line runs from Flagstaff to the Grand Canon of the Colorado river. More than a mile in depth, this is the sublimest of gorges—a Titan of chasms. Twenty Yacemites might be hidden unseen below, and Niagara would look scarcely larger than a brook.

describing this terra incognita. The book is no common affair; but is entertainingly written, beautifully illustrated and a gem
